Dear Friends,

The countdown has begun for all of the holidays celebrated this month! The ESC will be closed for the week of Christmas through the New Year, but if you need to meet with me, have a question or want to get together I will be checking my email and voicemail! Read below for an important presentation that I will be giving along with the Easton Police Department on Safety during the Holidays. I wish everyone a happy, healthy and safe holiday season!

Safety at Home and During the Holidays
Friday December 6th at 11 am

It is always a good idea to be reminded of precautions we can take to be safe in our homes, and during this holiday season! Come hear Officer Craig Tibbals talk about how to ensure your safety around your home (hint...unplug those Christmas lights) as well as out in the community. The presentation will be followed by lunch!

Please RSVP to 203-268-1137.

Library To Go

Easton Public Library, in collaboration with Municipal Agent for the Aging Alison Witherbee, is launching Library To Go, a free delivery service for Easton residents who are homebound. Library To Go will operate every other Wednesday, beginning on October 2. Residents can request books, audiobooks, music CDs, and magazines, and have them delivered right to their door! Library Assistant Penelope Papadoulis will oversee the service. For more information or to make a request, please contact Penelope at 203-261-0134 or pjp@eastonlibrary.org.

The Commission for the Aging will be meeting on December 2nd at the ESC at 5 pm
